

Ludwig H. Pfenning is Associate Professor at the Plant Pathology Department of Universidade Federal de Lavras, Minas Gerais State, Brazil. His research interests are focused on diseases and disorders in tropical crops caused by Fusarium. Other research activities are directed to the diversity and ecology of soil fungi and endophytes from tropical dicotyledonous plants. Currently, he is Editor in Chief of Tropical Plant Pathology, the official journal of the Brazilian Phytopathological Society.